OUR SPECIAL DESPATCHES.

BANKS' FRIENDS BECOMING MISANTHROPS—THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS POSTPONED—THE PENNSYLVANIA KITCHENBOARDS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1885.
No progress was made today in the House. A number of the friends of Mr. Banks indicated that they would not, after today, adhere to him any longer. This announcement created no little uneasiness among them. The democratic caucus, owing to the severe snow storm which has been raging all day, was postponed. A large number of leading Pennsylvania politicians are now here, who have, I am informed, a two-fold object in view, first, looking after Pennsylvania's chances; and secondly, fighting out what shall be the United States Senator from that State. The democratic caucus will be held on Friday, and the Kitchen Cabinet is very busy.

DESPAIR OF THE BANKS MEN—DEPARTURE OF COL. FRANKLIN, N.Y.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1885.
Banks' friends admit this evening that there is no prospect for an organization.

John A. Watson has been appointed Collector of the Port of New York.

Volund Parker, H. French was called to New York this evening by the illness of his family.

Mr. Campbell has received no instructions from his government on the subject of Central America.

THIRTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1885.

Mr. FURNES, (N. Y.) of Tennessee, said the action of the House demonstrated two propositions—first, the gentleman voted for have an enthusiastic friend; secondly, if either is elected, he will not decline the honor of the chair. He did not believe any successful candidate would conduct himself on occasion justly for the reputation of his official conduct. The present condition of the public mind, it will be injurious to the country to elect a Senator a gentleman who is the embodiment of the extreme sentiment of either section. He proposed, as a compromise Mr. Milson, of Virginia, who was opposed to the alien franchise feature in the Nebraska bill, voted against its passage, and was not in the democratic caucus which nominated Mr. Richardson.

He appealed to the moderate and conservative men to assist him in putting an end to this strife.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

Investigation before the Board of Police Commissioners—Evidence in regard to his Nativity.

The investigation before the Board of Police Commissioners, in regard to the nativity of Chief of Police, was resumed yesterday, pursuant to adjournment. The Mayor, Recorder and the newly appointed City Judge, Mr. John A. C. Brown, were present. There was a considerable number of spectators, but the room was not crowded as on the first day of the trial. Judge Brown, on taking his seat, said:—Before this inquiry is further resumed, I desire to make a statement in regard to myself. It is well known that this is my first appearance on this Commission. Considerable has been taken which I have nothing to do with, and it is quite probable that it would make a different impression on me if read, from what it would if heard from the lips of the witnesses themselves. I would in the latter case have an opportunity of observing their manner and judging of all the surrounding circumstances, then which I could not have from reading their testimony. Under this view of the matter I may be a safe judge in this case. I thought it well to make this statement.

Mr. Brown, one of the complainants, said that so far as he was concerned he had no objection to make. He was perfectly satisfied to leave the matter as it was.

Mr. Brown also said he was satisfied.

Mr. Brown then made a statement in regard to charges which had been made against him in the Board of Aldermen by Alderman Briggs. He said that at the last meeting of that body he had been called by Mr. Briggs, "a Yankee," and "a traitor," and that he was in league with the Mayor and Chief of Police.
